CRISIS? WHAT CRISIS?

Government policies are restricting your access to natural health products and your choice of ordinary consumer products, more than ever before. They say it's for safety; that government control is vital for our protection.

Shawn Buckley is crossing the country with his shocking new lecture demonstrating the end of Canadians' rights and freedoms.

Mr. Buckley has his clients' permission to disclose real life stories of individuals and businesses in crisis. The Freedom In Crisis lecture tour is taking up-to-date details on the road to ensure more people join the movement to fight for their rights. The NHPPA hopes that through illustrating current cases more people will understand the catastrophic flaws in policies imposed on us by Health Canada.

Learn how the Natural Health Product Regulations have Health Canada poised to raid legitimate business and how they have been pulling products we've taken for granted off store shelves. At the same time, Bill C-36: Canada's Consumer Product Safety Act, if passed, will attack manufacturers' and consumers' constitutional and legal rights. Hear the life and death implications of taking natural health products from the market and understand how a new law (Bill C-36) will elevate unelected, untrained government inspectors above the rule of law.

Become aware of the danger to Canadians' individual freedoms and livelihoods. Join the fight to protect your rights and stop the criminalization of products you rely on, while there is still time.

"The best protection against unconstitutional laws is to ensure that our elected representatives do not pass them."

- Shawn Buckley LL.B

"Of course we all want safe, effective health products, but if Canadians don't get active in preserving their rights and freedoms from Health Canada, they are soon going to have far fewer and less effective means with which to maintain their own health."

- John Biggs BSc, NCP

"No one has the right to infringe on our human rights. As legislators; our primary responsibility is to ensure that this legislation corresponds to the rule of law and that people are protected to the fullest extent of our intellectual, physical and human capacities."

- Senator Romeo Dallaire
